

Avgodromies Egg Races

To play “egg races” you need a spoon and a well boiled egg. Each player put the spoon with an egg in his mouth. The players stand in a row waiting the signal for the race. According to the rules of the game, players put their hands behind their back. The player who finishes first without dropping the egg is the winner.

Sack races

In “sack races” is allowed to play persons of all ages. People that want to play this game enter in a sack and stand on a line. When they listen to the signal they all start jumping until they reach the finish. The winner of the game is the one who reach first the finish.

We play this game on Tsiknopempti in school yards or in churches yards a day after Easter, or even in the fields when families go for picnic during spring season. It’s a famous traditional game in Cyprus and everybody have a lot of fun.

SPECIAL UNIT Traditional Dolls

In Cyprus, many years ago, the dolls were made from available materials such as spare scraps of cloth material. There are stories from grandmothers telling us that little girls and their mothers had to make their own dolls. So, in our lessons called "Old times – New times", students have seen pictures/photos of rag dolls and have learnt how to compare them with modern dolls. Students made their own rag dolls and played with them. Mainly, they have learnt how valuable money is in our times which allow us to buy dolls, among other things, so we have to deal with our money in a responsible way to enjoy life.
